

!

Dear Student:

Depending on a number of factors which include your income (or your family's income, if you are a dependent), enrollment status (full or half-time), and the amount of your qualified educational expenses during a calendar year, you may be eligible for a federal education credit when filing your income tax return. (You can find detailed information

!